

Contract Services and Rates

Through employment in software, telecommunications, and new media companies, I have been exposed to a wide range of technologies including those from major IT vendors and open source alternatives. In each case, I have had hands-on experience planning, managing, and growing the technical infrastructure of these organizations, including messaging, telecommunications, and Web-based delivery of services.

I am available for contract work. Services include

- Software design and development
- IT consulting
- Database design and administration
- Business analysis

$100/hour
